

Organic Portals – Soulless Humans

By Bernhard Guenther, April 18th, 2011

Three seminal quotes to set the stage:

“A considerable percentage of the people we meet on the street are people who are empty inside, that is, they are actually already dead. It is fortunate for us that we do not see and do not know it. If we knew what a number of people are actually dead and what a number of these dead people govern our lives, we should go mad with horror.”

– G.I. Gurdjieff

“- There are some human beings who are like vampires.

What are they and why are they like that?

They are not human; there is only a human form or appearance. They are incarnations of beings from the world that is just next to the physical, beings who live on the plane which we call the vital world. It is a world of all the desires and impulses and passions and of movements of violence and greed and cunning and every kind of ignorance; but all the dynamisms too are there, all the life-energies and all the powers. The beings of this world have by their nature a strange grip over the material world and can exercise upon it a sinister influence.

Some of them are formed out of the remains of the human being that persist after death in the vital atmosphere near to the earth-plane. His desires and hungers still float there and remain in form even after the dissolution of the body; often they are moved to go on manifesting and satisfying themselves and the birth of these creatures of the vital world is the consequence. But these are minor beings and, if they can be very troublesome, it is yet not impossible to deal with them.

There are others, far more dangerous, who have never been in human form; never were they born into a human body upon earth, for most often they refuse to accept this way of birth because it is slavery to matter and they prefer to remain in their own world, powerful and mischievous, and to control earthly beings from there. For, if they do not want to be born on earth, they do want to be in contact with the physical nature, but without being bound by it.

Their method is to try first to cast their influence upon a man; then they enter slowly into his atmosphere and in the end may get complete possession of him, driving out entirely the real human soul and personality. These creatures, when in possession of an earthly body, may have the human appearance but they have not a human nature. Their habit is to draw upon the life-force of human beings; they attack and capture vital power wherever they can and feed upon it. If they come into your atmosphere, you suddenly feel depressed and exhausted; if you are near them for some time you fall sick; if you live with one of them, it may kill you.

– But how is one to get such creatures out of one's environment when they are once there?

The vital power incarnated in these beings is of a very material kind and it is effective only within a short distance. Ordinarily, if you do not live in the same house or if you are not in the same company with them, you do not come within their influence. But if you open some channel of connection or communication, through letters, for example, then you make possible an interchange of forces and are liable to be influenced by them even from a far distance.

The wisest way with these beings is to cut off all connection and have nothing to do with them – unless indeed you have great occult knowledge and power and have learned how to cover and protect yourself – but even then it is always a dangerous thing to move about with them. To hope to transform them, as some people do, is a vain illusion; for they do not want to be transformed. They have no intention of allowing any transformation and all effort in that direction is useless.

These beings, when in the human body, are not often conscious of what they really are. Sometimes they have a vague feeling that they are not quite human in the ordinary way. But still there are cases where they are conscious and very conscious; not only do they know that they do not belong to humanity but they know what they are, act in that knowledge and deliberately pursue their ends. The beings of the vital world are powerful by their very nature; when to their power they add knowledge, they become doubly dangerous.

There is nothing to be done with these creatures; you should avoid having any dealings with them unless you have the power to crush and destroy them. If you are forced into contact with them, beware of the spell they can cast. These vital beings, when they manifest on the physical plane, have always a great hypnotic power; for the centre of their consciousness is in the vital world and not in the material and they are not veiled and dwarfed by the material consciousness as human beings are. “

– Sri Aurobindo, The Hidden Forces of Life – The Integral Yoga

Rudolf Steiner in 1923:

“Dr. Rudolf Steiner: That little girl L.K. in the first grade must have something really very wrong inside. There is not much we can do. Such cases are increasing in which children are born with a human form, but are not really human beings in relation to their highest I; instead, they are filled with beings that do not belong to the human class. Quite a number of people have been born since the nineties without an I, that is, they are not reincarnated, but are human forms filled with a sort of natural demon. There are quite a large number of older people going around who are actually not human beings, but are only natural; they are human beings only in regard to their form. We cannot, however, create a school for demons.

A teacher: How is that possible?

Dr. Rudolf Steiner: Cosmic error is certainly not impossible. The relationships of individuals coming into earthly existence have long been determined. There are also generations in which individuals have no desire to come into earthly existence and be connected with physicality, or immediately leave at the very beginning. In such cases, other beings that are not quite suited step in. This is something that is now quite common, that human beings go around without an I; they are actually not human beings, but have only a human form. They are beings like nature spirits, which we do not recognize as such because they go around in a human form. They are also quite different from human beings in regard to everything spiritual.

The riddle of life is not so simple. When such a being dies, it returns to nature from which it came. The corpse decays, but there is no real dissolution of the etheric body, and the natural being returns to nature. It is also possible that something like an automaton could occur. The entire human organism exists, and it might be possible to automate the brain and develop a kind of pseudomorality.

I do not like to talk about such things since we have often been attacked even without them. Imagine what people would say if they heard that we say there are people who are not human beings. Nevertheless, these are facts. Our culture would not be in such a decline if people felt more strongly that a number of people are going around who, because they are completely ruthless, have become something that is not human, but instead are demons in human form.

— from “Faculty Meetings With Rudolf Steiner Vol. 2”, July 1923

Introduction

These are interesting times. On one hand there are changes happening on a global scale that can't really be ignored much longer. On the other hand the majority of the population seem to live their lives as if everything is just as it always is and always will be, locked in a tunnel vision of personal and material interest.

As long as we keep lying to ourselves based on conditioning, wishful thinking, suppression or denial and believe the lies "out there", mistaking them for truth, nothing will change. This goes also beyond having a "positive" attitude, where hope can be merely a trap and lie to the self. Believing in lies that are "positive" in appearance (regardless how well-meaning the intent or good-hearted the person) is actually being negative and blocks one's awareness and spiritual evolution. Being positive can mean acknowledging something negative because it is the truth, seeing it for what it is. If you believe a lie, even if it seems positive and makes you "feel good", you give away your free will and that has spiritual implications. In these times of transition it becomes imperative to do seek truth and strive towards objectivity, so we don't take the "wrong" turn into entropy.

*“With the approach of the era of the Holy Spirit, everything must be gradually brought to the light of day, not only the secrets of the laboratory but the deepest meanings of esotericism. The same must happen with illusions, errors and lies, which must also be revealed so that they can later be rectified.

[...]

The world is suffering from a lack of harmony which gets deeper on every plane, and this is a serious danger to the moral and spiritual recovery of humanity. It also involves a serious risk of failure in the last stage of this Time of transition that we are now entering. If this risk is not overcome, the Deluge of Fire awaits us. We will have to make an immense effort to ward off this fate, and we have very little time in which to do it. Man has only himself to blame for the greatness of the effort needed: this is a result of his obstinate refusal to heed the warnings that have been addressed to him time and again by the Divine Voice, just as he continues today to blind himself to the fact that the Deluge of Fire is being made ready.”*

– Gnosis II, Boris Mouravieff

Many people are not aware of the path this world is currently going towards. Sure, there are some self-proclaimed “aware” and “conscious” folks out there who believe that all is just going as it has to go and humanity will wake up eventually in 2012 or the Golden Age where everyone is enlightened without having to do anything at all to reach that state. “Just be” and show “love” is the mantra these days, without really understanding what “being” and “love” means to begin with or so it seems. ??However, I don’t want to get into the traps of the Pseudo Spirituality promoted through this “New Age Religion” these days. Past writings and videos have examined that. My goal is also not to try to convince anyone of anything because no one can make another one change. This is just about questioning some fundamental beliefs and giving food for thought.

Some sources that talk about a Shift or Transformation occurring in our age also mention a “splitting” of humanity and that not everyone is going to wake up. The main reason for this can be found in a very interesting issue this planet faces and which has been written about in various esoteric teachings as well as transmitted through certain channeled material. It relates to two different “races” or “humanities” coexisting on earth, alike from the outside, but unlike in the inside.

The common spiritual lofty idea that runs through the world these days is “we’re all one” and just by recognizing this we should unite under world peace and harmony. All that the world leaders need to do is recognize the same, hence many people send “love and light” to the rulers and leaders , so they may see this “truth” as well because they are so misguided and just need “love” and “compassion”, etc.....??Well, yes, everything is one from a HIGHER perspective. As a matter of fact, it is pretty obvious that All is One, is it not? The devil, however, is always in the details.?? Laura Knight-Jadczyk gives a good insight into the misplacement of “higher truths” in her book “The Secret History of the World”:

“Many modern day “teachers” and “gurus” tell us “Since there is only One Being which permeates all things, all we have to do is see everything as only light”, and that will transmute the darkness, and we will “create our own reality of light.”

Such a statement ignores the fact that the statement “God is One” describes a reality that is a higher level from which our own “mixed being” manifests. The man who assumes that he can become like God at this level just by thinking it, ignores the facts of Being vs. Non-being which outrays from “God is One” at a level of existence that is clearly several levels above our own. Evil is REAL on its own level, and the task of man is to navigate the Cosmic Maze without being defiled by the Evil therein. This is the root of Free Will.

Man faces a predicament as REAL as himself: he is forced to choose – to utilize his knowledge by applying it – between the straight path which leads to Being, and the crooked paths which lead to Non-Being.

Human beings are required to discern between good and evil – consciousness energy directors – at every stage of their existence in this reality. Because, in fact, they must understand that God is consciousness and God is matter. God is good, and God is evil. The Creation assumes all the different properties of the many “Names of God.” The Cosmos is full of Life-giving and Slaying, Forgiveness and Vengeance, Exaltation and Abasement, Guidance and Deception. To attempt to assume God’s point of view and “mix everything” at this level, results only in STAYING at this level. Therefore, human beings must always separate God’s point of view from their own point of view and the fact that all creation assumes the divine Names and Traits.”

Yes, we’re all one, but we’re not all the same in this 3rd density experience here on planet earth. Sure, Gandhi and Hitler are one, but one of them doesn’t seem to have any conscience.?? The biggest illusion and projection regular folks seem to have is the assumption that the people in positions of power think and feel just like we all do and if they don’t it is assumed that they are just misguided and lack love in their lives. However, what if there exists a type of human who has no connection to the higher centers of universal love/awareness at all by birth? He/she is not even genetically wired this way, not being able to access it this lifetime around but he/she can emulate and fake these higher characteristics quite well and even distract you from evolving by sapping your energy and feeding off it. They can tell you exactly what you want to hear, appear compassionate, empathetic, and understanding without meaning or feeling it one bit.?? And what if this type of human makes up half of the world’s population? He/she might be even a family member, a co-worker, neighbor, boss or even a close friend, a lover, husband or wife? Certainly not a pleasant thought and certainly a blow to the popular New Age paradigm of “we’re all one and humanity is becoming enlightened just by focusing on Love, Light” and so-called “positive thinking!”.

When exploring this idea more closely, with an objective, open, and critical mind, it gives huge clues to the state of the world.?? Let’s look at some of these sources that talk about the two different “races” of humanity. One of it is Boris Mouravieff’s “Gnosis” Trilogy.

Suppression and distortion of esoteric knowledge is one of the means for control of the masses here on planet earth. This has been going on for thousands of years. Even the material presented in “Gnosis” is covered around a biblical gloss that one needs to weed through.?? As we enter the Time of Transition, deeper Knowledge about our reality and world is coming to the surface again, but only the ones able to SEE will truly recognize it. Truth vibrates on a certain frequency and it requires a certain state of “Being” to see, understand, and most importantly apply it. This is achieved through esoteric work. Mouravieff notes that all serious esoteric teaching, as in ordinary education, is almost uniform:

“It is generally accepted that nobody can go on to secondary school without having completed an elementary education. Nor can a person be admitted to a university without having a secondary education. These graduations automatically “select” those able to become active members of the cultural elite of human society.

Exactly the same is true in the esoteric Tradition.

However, in our modern world, we encounter a curious phenomenon. For example: we would not seek to discuss Newton’s binomial theorem without having studied algebra, for without this, every opinion we expressed on the subject would be worthless.

Yet, in the esoteric field, we find a host of “experts” who declare their opinions on esotericism without having ever learned even the rudiments of this knowledge.

At the same time, some of them demand “simplicity” from esoteric teachings on the generally accepted principle that Truth itself must be simple. They conclude from this that access to Truth ought to likewise be simple. Then they assert that the methods to access Truth must be easily assimilable.

*This argument would be perfectly correct if human beings and the problems they face were simple and just. However, that is not the case. There is a long road to travel from our state of distorted inner disorder to any “original simplicity.”

*In practice, the doctrine of “simplicity” – if regarded as an axiom – turns the student aside from the strait gate and the narrow way that leads to Life. Impelled by this counter-truth, he believes he stands before this door, when he is in reality – although undoubtedly in perfectly good faith – walking the wide path that leads to perdition, ad majorem Diaboli gloriam, of course.*

The Doctrine of Simplicity, correct in itself, but wrongly interpreted, becomes a snare for hearts and minds that are already too corrupt; a danger which should be recognized and avoided.

Some people complain that the subject of the fundamentals of esotericism is not simple. Others have said that it leads to great clarity. This apparent contradiction is explained by the fact that esotericism is addressed to readers who are predisposed to esoteric culture by their nature, formation or personal experience.

It is difficult, if not impossible, for an esoterically unevolved person to discern false prophets spontaneously. He will recognize them more easily by their “fruits,” by the observable results of their works, which serve as signs. The Tradition knows and teaches a whole Science of signs.”

The above excerpt is crucial in understanding what is presented these days as “Spirituality”. True esoteric Knowledge has not much to do with popular New Age/Self Help literature these days, as promoted by the mainstream, what is shown on Oprah (from E. Tolle to “The Secret”, etc...) or what is on the bestseller list and “in”. Too many people speak too quick as if they already “know” and repeat New Age Slogans, such as “we’re all one”, “all is an illusion”, “all you need is love”, “just be yourself”, “be in the now”, etc.. without truly understanding the depth of these words and their true meaning beyond the fast-food spirituality these days.

Not all is false what these sources state, however, lies are mixed with truth and the devil is always in the details. The world is full of self-proclaimed gurus and spiritual leaders who promise to show seekers the “Way“ as they cash in and feed off the credulity of their followers. Most popular New Age material (including channeled sources) merely serve as buffers and excuses, another form of illusion/escape, but not as a catalyst for true spiritual growth. As Mouravieff writes:

“Comfort, the prevailing word for Progress in its many different aspects and to varying degrees, forms a sufficient aim for the majority of civilized men of our era. Under these conditions of our times, man is only open to divine values in carefully measured doses, kept within limits so that they do not trouble his bourgeois or socio-communist conscience or threaten the material well-being he has acquired.”

However, there is another issue and that is, esoteric work and knowledge can only be grasped and applied by a certain type of human and that another type of man does not possess this ability in his/her current life cycle. One type has a soul, the other one is soul-less, so to speak. There is no difference on the outside and in terms of personality, but the inner life is vastly different. No one is better or worse than the other, but all are part of this evolutionary cycle. The idea of the soul is something that many religions, philosophers, and spiritual teachings talk about. The question is, what is the soul and does everyone really has one?

According to “Gnosis”, as transmitted by Boris Mouravieff, there exist two kinds of humans: adamic man and pre-adamic man. One type with soul potential, the other has no individual soul. Only the former has the inherent capacity to evolve esoterically and build the magnetic center by fusing the lower with the higher centers. The latter does not have the possibility in his current evolutionary cycle to bridge to the higher centers and no access to higher knowing/awareness/love. ?Looking at the Indian chakra model, one could say that pre-adamic man only exists on the lower three chakras without any access to the higher ones, while adamic man also mostly exists on the lower centers, but has the ability to activate and bridge the higher centers through conscious esoteric work. Mouravieff writes:

“In the first volume of ‘Gnosis’, we already referred several times to the coexistence of two essentially different races: one of Men, and another of Anthropoids. We must emphasize the fact that from the esoteric point of view the latter term has no derogatory meaning.

...The Scriptures contain more than one reference to the coexistence on our planet of these two humanities – which are now alike in form but unlike in essence. We can even say that the whole dramatic history of humanity, from the fall of Adam until today, not excluding the prospect of the new era, is overshadowed by the coexistence of these two human races whose separation will occur only at the Last Judgement.

...The human tares, the anthropoid race, are the descendants of pre-adamic humanity. The principal difference between contemporary pre-adamic man and adamic man – a difference which is not perceived by the senses – is that the former does not possess the developed higher centres that exist in the latter which, although they have been cut off from his waking consciousness since the Fall, offer him a real possibility of esoteric evolution. Apart from this, the two races are similar: they have the same lower centres, the same structure of the Personality and the same physical body, although more often than not this is stronger in the pre-adamic man than in the adamic; regarding beauty, we must not forget that pre-adamic man and woman were created by God on the sixth day, in His image and after His likeness, and that the daughters of this race were beautiful.

By identifying himself with the 'I' of his Personality, Adam lost consciousness of his real 'I' and fell from the Eden that was his original condition into the same condition as the pre-adamics... The two humanities, coming from two different creative processes, later mingled on the level of organic life on Earth... From then on, the coexistence of these two human types, and the competition which was the result of this, became the norm...we can see that throughout the centuries, even in our own day, adamics in their post-fall condition, have been are are generally in an inferior position to the pre-adamics.

*... this situation, with its practical consequences and problems, will be the object of a deeper study. This is necessary because the Era of the Holy Spirit is approaching, at the end of which the question of the separation of the tares from the good seed will arise. For the moment we will restrict ourselves to repeating that contemporary adamic man, having lost contact with his higher centres and therefore with his real 'I', appears practically the same as his pre-adamic counterpart. However, unlike the latter, he still has his higher centres, which ensure that he has the possibility of following the way of esoteric evolution. At present, pre-adamic man is deprived of this possibility, but it will be given to him if adamic humanity develops as it should during the era of the Holy Spirit.”

© Alex Grey

Not everyone has access to higher states of Being and Seeing

Mouravieff gives us examples of how the existence of the two “races” has been distorted and misused by means of racism and social control. Adamic and pre-adamic men are mixed throughout all humans from all over the globe. There can be even both types in the same family. The difference has nothing to do with racial, cultural or national characteristics. The true meaning of the two “humanities” goes back to the idea of “blue blood” and the “pollution of the bloodline” when both “races” intermingled, after “the fall” of adamite man from his original state and his identification with his false “I”, the “I” of the personality/ego.

“First constated [realized] very long ago, this fact, although it has been distorted because it is generally seen in a false light, was part of the national, social and judicial consciousness of many ancient and modern peoples. One finds its influence in the Indian idea of the Untouchable, the Greek Helot, the Jewish Goy, the medieval European white Bones and black Bones, the German Nazi Untermensch, etc...

Incidentally, the legend of blue blood does not belong to the domain of pure fantasy. The error is not in the conception of blue blood as a ‘psychosomatic’ phenomenon, but in the naive medieval belief that this so called aristocratic blood passes automatically from father to son....

We must also note that the other extreme, the equalitarian conception of human nature, so dear to the theoreticians of democratic and socialist revolutions, is also erroneous: the only real equality of subjects by inner and international right is equality of possibilities, for men are born unequal.”

What follows are excerpts from a chapter called “Organic Portals – The “Other” Race” from “The Secret History of the World” by Laura Knight-Jadczyk based on the Cassiopaeian transmissions, MouraviEFF’s “Gnosis” and psychopathology. The topic of Organic Portals is also addressed in more depth in the article “Spiritless Humans” by Tom Montalk. Organic Portals is a term coined by the C’s and relates to the pre-adamic man according to MouraviEFF. [my comments in italic]:

Organic Portals – The “Other” Race

One of the more difficult concepts is the concept of the Organic Portal. We have received hate mail over the years, primarily from mainstream religious types and new age believers, but we get even MORE letters from people who nearly shout in relief at finally having something of an explanation for things they have observed all their lives. What seems to cause offense is the concept that there may be more than one type of human. Let us be clear on this point: we do not mean what is commonly or traditionally understood as race, and abhor any attempt at labeling and making checklists. What we mean exactly will be clarified further into the article.

[...]

MouraviEFF is telling us that there were originally TWO races that evolved on the earth, and that these two races while being physically almost identical, were very different from a soul point of view. It seems that one had the potential to develop a sovereign and integral soul in this lifetime, while the other were as empty cylinders in comparison and were destined to wait another “turn of the wheel” or cosmic cycle. The adamic race is the race that suffered the Fall, which meant the breaking of the connection between the higher centers (giving access to higher knowing/awareness) and the lower centers (which govern physical existence), and which left adamic man in the same “playground” as pre-adamic man, effectively rendering us all OP’s until we learn how to develop the soul.

Basically, until adamic man starts to develop himself consciously through esoteric work, he is on the same level as pre-adamic man (Organic Portal), however he has the potential to develop a soul (activating the higher centers) through work and conscious efforts. Hence everyone is essentially an “Organic Portal” until the Awakening of the higher centers, which is only possible for adamic man.

As our research into psychopaths continued, and especially in reading the work The Mask of Sanity by H. Cleckley, we came to the conclusion that there exists what we call the “garden variety” psychopath. This is the psychopath who is “successful” in the sense that he doesn’t get caught. He operates invisibly in society. He looks and acts just like “we” do, going about the activities of daily life, and yet something is “missing.” As Cleckley describes it:

“The observer is confronted with a convincing mask of sanity. All the outward features of this mask are intact; it cannot be displaced or penetrated by questions directed toward deeper personality levels.

The examiner never hits upon the chaos sometimes found on searching beneath the outer surface of a paranoid schizophrenic.

The thought processes retain their normal aspect under psychiatric investigations and in technical tests designed to bring out obscure evidence of derangement.

Examination reveals not merely an ordinary two-dimensional mask but what seems to be a solid and substantial structural image of the sane and rational personality.

*He might then be thought of, in the full literal sense, as an example of what Trélat meant to designate by his expressive term, la folie lucide.*

Furthermore, this personality structure in all theoretical situations functions in a manner apparently identical with that of normal, sane functioning.

Logical thought processes may be seen in perfect operation no matter how they are stimulated or treated under experimental conditions.

Furthermore, the observer finds verbal and facial expressions, tones of voice, and all the other signs we have come to regard as implying conviction and emotion and the normal experiencing of life as we know it ourselves and as we assume it to be in others.

All judgments of value and emotional appraisals are sane and appropriate when the Psychopath is tested in verbal examinations.

*Only very slowly and by a complex estimation or judgment based on multitudinous small impressions does the conviction come upon us that, despite these intact rational processes, these normal emotional affirmations, and their consistent application in all directions, we are dealing here not with a complete man at all but with something that suggests a subtly constructed reflex machine which can mimic the human personality perfectly.

This smoothly operating psychic apparatus reproduces consistently not only specimens of good human reasoning but also appropriate simulations of normal human emotion in response to nearly all the varied stimuli of life.

So perfect is this reproduction of a whole and normal man that no one who examines him in a clinical setting can point out in scientific or objective terms why, or how, he is not real.

And yet we eventually come to know or feel we know that reality, in the sense of full, healthy experiencing of life, is not here.”

Cleckley is describing a person who is able to mimic the human personality, but who leaves the impression that something is not there. They have a personality structure which “functions in a manner apparently identical with that of normal, sane functioning” and yet when all is said and done, “we are dealing here not with a complete man at all but with something that suggests a subtly constructed reflex machine which can mimic the human personality perfectly” to the point that “no one who examines him in a clinical setting can point out in scientific or objective terms why, or how, he is not real.”

Moreover, we must remember that Cleckley is dealing with clinical cases, the psychopath who has been caught, who has a program malfunction, otherwise they would not have been in his office. These people, even with minor glitches, can pass almost imperceptibly among us.

The type referred to here as “Organic Portals” (for reasons which will become clear), are people whose abilities of imitation are so developed, so much an integral part of who they are, that they can only be discovered after years of observation. The psychopath is the failed organic portal.

Most Organic Portals have no inclination to break laws, in fact the majority have no real inclinations at all other than to pursue the “A influences” (Mouravieff’s term) otherwise known as the social norms, such as money, career, sex, marriage, fame or any of a host of other “ideals” that we are all encouraged to strive for from an early age. The attainment of these goals is held up in global society as the culmination of the search for happiness, yet it is evident from the state of our world today that true happiness remains as illusory and elusive as ever...at least for those who have an inkling that there is “something more”.

So where do these “life goals” that serve us so badly come from? Is it possible that they are in fact someone else’s ideas and goals for us...is it in someone else’s interest that most of us expend our energies and efforts in a fruitless pursuit of chimerical happiness?

This concept is not new at cassiopaea.org and is therefore an idea that will not be strange to regular readers of the site, but what is new and indeed very strange is the idea that there could be billions of these Organic Portals who have been vectored toward keeping those unaware of this concept lost in the “wilderness and desert”, ensuring the continued production of “loosh” from all of humanity. It should be noted here that we are not talking of some form of malignancy or evil on the part of Organic Portals, rather it would seem that they are simply doing and acting according to their natures, which it appears is to a large extent “soul-less”.

This is a very important point. There is nothing “wrong” with Organic Portals or being an OP. They serve a specific function in the grand scheme of existence. They can’t be anything else but that.

As the research, ideas and thoughts developed it was one revelation after another, and it soon became clear how possible this grand plan could have been implemented:

It seems there are possibly 3 billion organic portals sharing the planet, that is, one out of two people on the planet may be effectively soul-less.

Mouravieff's description of the "Fall" of the Adamic race also follows the same lines as the description given to us from the C's where we see that this is a symbolic version of the "Fall" of our consciousness unit.

The following excerpts by the C's contains some words and concepts that may be new to some readers. STO = Service to Others and STS = Service to Self. The concepts of service to others (STO) and service to self (STS) are the central cornerstone of the teaching of first Ra and then Cassiopaea. These same fundamentals are expressed in different terms throughout esoteric culture. The concept of densities is also a cornerstone in the Cassiopaea and Ra materials. Density denotes a qualitatively distinct level of being. Each density has its own structure of life forms, perception and typical lessons for the consciousnesses residing in it. These are topics than need careful study and understanding and, as mentioned before, it is recommended to read the original sources for more insight. The term "Lizzies" is a short-hand notation for those theorized denizens of hyperdimensional realities whose "essence" is read as reptilian. [Q: the Questioner; A: The C's communicating]

08-28-99

Q: Well, this is one of the problems I am dealing with in trying to write this history of mankind. As I understand it, or as I am trying to figure it out from the literature, prior to the 'Fall in Eden,' mankind lived in a 4th density state. Is that correct?

A: Semi/sort of.

Q: Please be more specific.

A: 4th density in another realm, such as time/space continuum, etc.

Q: Okay, so this realm changed, as a part of the cycle; various choices were made: the human race went through the door after the 'gold,' so to speak, and became aligned with the Lizzies after the 'female energy' consorted with the wrong side, so to speak. This is what you have said. This resulted in a number of effects: the breaking up of the DNA, the burning off of the first ten factors of DNA, the separation of the hemispheres of the brain ...

A: Only reason for this: you play in the dirt, you're gonna get dirty.

Q: (T) What were we before the "Fall?"

A: 3rd density STO.

Q: (T) We are STS at this point because of what happened then?

A: Yes.

[...]

Q: (T) We were 3rd density STO at that time. Was this after the battle that had transpired? In other words, were we, as a 3rd density race, literally on our own at that point, as opposed to before?

A: Was battle.

Q: (L) The battle was in us?

A: Through you.

Q: (T) The battle was through us as to whether we would walk through this doorway... (L) The battle was fought through us, we were literally the battleground.

(T) Was the battle over whether or not we walked through that door?

A: Close.

Q: (T) Okay, we were STO at that point. You have said before that on this density we have the choice of being STS or STO.

*A: Oh Terry, the battle is always there, it's "when" you choose that counts!

[...]

Q: (T) This must tie into why the Lizards and other aliens keep telling people that they have given their consent for abduction and so forth. We were STO and now we are STS.

A: Yes, ... “When” you went for the gold, you said “Hello” to the Lizards and all that that implies.

Q: (T) ...By going for the gold, we became STS beings because going for the gold was STS.

A: Yes.

Q: (T) And, in doing so, we ended up aligning ourselves with the 4th density Lizard Beings...

A: Yes.

Q: (T) Because they are 4th density beings and they have a lot more abilities than we at 3rd density...

A: You used to be aligned with 4th density STO.

Q: (T) And we were 3rd density STO. But, by going for the gold we aligned ourselves with 4th density STS.

A: Yes.

Q: (T) And by doing so we gave 4th density STS permission to do whatever they wish with us?

A: Close.

Q: (T) So, when they tell us that we gave them permission to abduct us, it is this they are referring to?

A: Close.

Q: (J) Go back to what they said before: “Free will could not be abridged if you had not obliged.” (T) We, as the human race, used our free will to switch from STO to STS. (L) So, at some level we have chosen the mess we are in and that is the Super Ancient Legend of the Fallen Angel, Lucifer. That is us. We fell by falling into that door, so to speak, going after the pot of gold, and when we fell through the door, the serpent bit us!

A: But this is a repeating syndrome.

Q: (L) Is it a repeating syndrome just for the human race or is it a repeating syndrome throughout all of creation?

A: It is the latter.

The adamic race with its full set of DNA, with its connection to the higher centres in place and functioning, is what the C's describe here as 3D STO living in a "semi/sort of" 4D state aligned with 4D STO.

In making the choice to experience greater physicality, the consciousness unit fractures and "Falls" from the STO state, loses its connection with the higher centres, and finds itself at the same level as the pre-adamic race – those who have no possibility of reaching the higher centres because the DNA hardware isn't in place. Because this new 3D STS existence was not the "natural habitat" for a body with the potential to reach the higher centres, the fallen race is at a disadvantage compared to the pre-adamics.

What is the Organic Portal?

Having seen the similarities between Mouravieff's description of the two races and Cleckley's description of the psychopath, Laura decided to pose a few questions to the C's.

*Q: In Book III of his Gnosis, Mouravieff discusses what he calls “pre-Adamic humanity” and “Adamic humanity.” As I read this I could see that the thing I was struggling to understand in terms of psychopathy as discussed in the Adventures Series, was exactly what Mouravieff was describing. However, he was using the Bible to explain it, and that just didn’t quite work. Nevertheless, the basic idea is that pre-Adamic human types basically have no “soul,” nor any possibility of growing one. This is certainly shocking, but there have been many recent scholarly discussions of this matter based on what seems to be clinical evidence that, indeed, there are human beings who are just “mechanical” and have no “inner” or “higher self” at all. Gurdjieff talked about this and so did Castaneda. So, I asked if his ideas about the two basic TYPES of humans were, as far as they went, accurate.

*A: Indeed, though again, there is a “Biblical Gloss.” [The pre-Adamic types are] “organic” portals between levels of density.

This, of course, raised the issue of whether or not trying to “help” or “save” such individuals was a waste of time.

A: Pretty much. Most of them are very efficient machines. The ones that you have identified as psychopaths are “failures.” The best ones cannot be discerned except by long and careful observation.

One of the longtime members of the group then wanted to know if any of us had ever encountered one of these “organic portals” and if so, would the C’s identify one for the sake of instruction.

A: If you consider that the population is equally distributed, then you will understand that in an ordinary “souled” person’s life, that person will encounter half as many organic portals as souled individuals. BUT, when someone is in the process of “growing” and strengthening the soul, the Control System will seek to insert even more “units” into that person’s life. Now, think of all the people you have ever met and particularly those with whom you have been, or are, intimate. Which half of this number would YOU designate as being organic portals? Hard to tell, eh?

Q: (V) Is this the original meaning of the “pollution of the bloodline?”

A: Yes.

[...]

[my comments:]

Now this is a highly significant point by the C's which we can find in Mouravieff's "Gnosis" as well. The "Control System" relates to the "General Law" and forces acting upon the seeker who tries to "escape" or transcend it by entering "The Way" of esoteric work:

"Economy of energies too is a must, as the walk to and on the Way demands their total mobilization. Any unjustified expenditure can lead in the end to failure. We must always keep this in mind. In general, the reaction of those around towards someone who begins to search for the Way is negative. This negative attitude is the result of the action of the General Law, which, as we know, tends to keep man in his place. Not being able to do this directly by the action of Illusion, the General Law, when it loses its dominion over the man who 'moves', acts indirectly by the mediation of those around him."

On the other hand, if man just lives along without any efforts of waking up or is no threat to the "General Law" or Matrix Control System, he will be left alone and he can even make a brilliant career, be successful, have family, kids, be "happy" in his illusion, yet he will not have progressed esoterically as he feeds the General Law by following "A" influences.

“We are not aware of how much we are bound by the action of the General Law. Acting on us as it does on our cells, this law immobilizes us or constantly tends to bring us back to our place. Its strength leaves us little freedom of action outside the limits of its direction and scope. It acts in various ways. One can say that if man lives ‘like everyone else’, if he does not venture off the beaten track, he will never perceive the existence of this force, or rather this force will ignore him.”

If man spends his life without distinguishing between ‘A’ and ‘B’ influences, he will end it as he started, one could say mechanically, driven by the Law of Accident. However, according to the nature and the intensity of the resultant forces to which he is subjected, it can happen to him to make a brilliant career, in the meaning the world gives to this expression. Yet he will come to the end of his days without having either learned or understood anything of Reality. And earth returns to Earth.”

That can be seen very clearly in our world. Everyone who just goes along with the masses and “accepted” reality has not much struggle in the world. Birth, school, choose a career, get a job, watch TV, consume, reproduce, entertain, be nationalistic or religious, follow your desires and impulses unexamined, etc...

Not knowing himself, but a slave to the outside world, full on under the control of the General Law/Matrix, the common man has no free will, although he thinks he does.

However, whenever someone awakens, steps up and tries to “escape” The General Law/Matrix by speaking and seeing truth, forces are put on to him to put him back in line, back to sleep. He will be ridiculed or even silenced. His only chance of protection is to apply esoteric Knowledge and fuse the centers, so he doesn’t fall back to sleep. Anything that is not a threat to the MCS (Matrix Control System) or General Law will be ignored or even promoted heavily, be it through religion, politics, entertainment or popular new age ideas.

“But if his enterprises are out of the ordinary, no matter what field they are in, but especially in esotericism, this force begins to act, and stirs up all sorts of obstacles in order to bring him back to the point where — according to the General Law — he must reside. Even without knowing this force, we have an intuition of its existence and of the many forms which clothe it. The Holy Scriptures speak of it more than once, especially where esoteric work is concerned.

Thus, if this conservative force, which is the servant of the General Law, does not succeed in ‘calming’ man by acting directly upon him, it tries to reach him indirectly through the people of his household, either through the feelings they invoke or the coolness and contempt they openly show him.”

“This conservative force, the Servant of the General Law” acts through pre-adamic man, the Organic Portals. It’s not that the person him/herself is the cause. Pre-adamic man is being used literally as a portal through which the Matrix works and tries to keep man in his place through hyperdimensional forces (4D STS). Think of Agent Smith being able to inject himself into any character in “The Matrix” trying to stop Neo from awakening. Hence, blind people, people who are asleep, plugged into the Matrix, the grand illusion, become “tools” of the Matrix to make sure no one jumps out of line. It’s how the sheep control the sheep.

“You have to understand, most of these people are not ready to be unplugged. And many of them are so inured, so hopelessly dependent on the system, that they will fight to protect it. ”

– Morpheus in “The Matrix”

[excerpt continues:]

It also became clear that the work of discerning these “organic portals” from souled human beings is CRUCIAL to the so-called “ascension” process. Without the basic understanding of transformation of, and conservation of energies, there is no possibility of fusing a magnetic center. And thus, it seems that the experiences described in the Adventures Series were not only necessary to further refine the energies, but also to develop the discernment process to a very high level. At this point, the group member stated that there was a member of her family who she was certain was one of these “organic portals.” The C’s jumped to respond:

A: Now, do not start labeling without due consideration. Remember that very often the individual who displays contradictory behavior may be a souled being in struggle.

*Q: (L) I would say that the chief thing they are saying is that the really good ones – you could never tell except by long observation. The one key we discovered from studying psychopaths was that their actions do not match their words. But what if that is a symptom of just being weak and having no will? (A) How can I know if I have a soul?

A: Do you ever hurt for another?

Q: (V) I think they are talking about empathy. These soulless humans simply don't care what happens to another person. If another person is in pain or misery, they don't know how to care.

A: The only pain they experience is “withdrawal” of “food” or comfort, or what they want. They are also masters of twisting perception of others so as to seem to be empathetic. But, in general, such actions are simply to retain control.

Q: (A) What does having a soul or not having a soul have to do with bloodline?

A: Genetics marry with soul if present.

Q: Do “organic portals” go to fifth density when they die?

A: Only temporarily until the “second death.”

Q: (V) What is the “origin” of these organic portal human types? In the scheme of creation, where did they come from?

A: They were originally part of the bridge between 2nd density and 3rd density. Review transcripts on the subject of short wave cycles and long wave cycles.

The questions then moved onto issues about sleep. Ark had been reading the transcripts and noted that the C's had said that sleep was necessary for human beings because it was a period of “rest and recharging.” They had also said that the SOUL rests while the body is sleeping. So, the question was what source of energy was tapped to recharge both the body and the soul.

A: The question needs to be separated. What happens to a souled individual is different from an organic portal unit.

At this point, we stopped and talked about the possibility that the life force energy that is embodied in Organic Portals must be something like the soul pool that is theorized for flora and fauna. This would, of course, explain the striking and inexplicable similarity of psychopaths, that is so well defined, that they differ from one another only in the way that different species of trees are different in the overall class of “Tree-ness” So, we divided the question and asked first:

Q: ... where does the energy come from that recharges Organic Portals.

A: The pool you have described.

Q: Does the recharging of the souled being come from a similar pool, only maybe the “human” pool?

*A: No – it recharges from the so-called sexual center which is a higher center of creative energy. During sleep, the emotional center, not being blocked by the lower intellectual center and the moving center, transduces the energy from the sexual center. It is also the time during which the higher emotional and intellectual centers can rest from the “drain” of the lower centers’ interaction with those pesky organic portals so much loved by the lower centers. This respite alone is sufficient to make a difference. But, more than that, the energy of the sexual center is also more available to the other higher centers.

Q: From where does the so-called “sexual center” get ITS energy?

*A: The sexual center is in direct contact with 7th density in its “feminine” creative thought of “Thou, I Love.” The “outbreath” of “God” in the relief of constriction. Pulsation. Unstable Gravity Waves.

Q: Do the “centers” as described by Mouravieff relate at all to the idea of “chakras.”

*A: Quite closely. In an individual of the organic variety, the so-called higher chakras are “produced in effect” by stealing that energy from souled beings. This is what gives them the ability to emulate souled beings. The souled being is, in effect, perceiving a mirror of their own soul when they ascribe “soul qualities” to such beings.

Q: Is this a correspondence that starts at the basal chakra which relates to the sexual center as described by Mouravieff?

*A: No. The “sexual center” corresponds to the solar plexus. Lower moving center – basal chakra. Lower emotional – sexual chakra. Lower intellectual – throat chakra. Higher emotional – heart chakra. Higher intellectual – crown chakra

Q: (V) What about the so-called seventh, or “third eye” chakra?

*A: Seer. The union of the heart and intellectual higher centers. This would “close the circuit” in the “shepherd’s crook” configuration.

Q: (V) What about the many ideas about 12 chakras, and so forth, that are currently being taught by many new age sources?

A: There are no such. This is a corrupted conceptualization based on the false belief that the activation of the physical endocrine system is the same as the creation and fusion of the magnetic center. The higher centers are only “seated” by being “magnetized.” And this more or less “External” [unseated] condition of the Higher Centers has been perceived by some individuals and later joined to the perceived “seating” locations, in potential. This has led to “cross conceptualization” based on assumption!

Q: Are the levels of initiation and levels of the staircase as presented by Mouravieff fairly accurate?

A: Yes, but different levels accessed in other so-called lives can relieve the intensity of some levels in “another” life.

Summing Up

Using clues the Cassiopaeans provided, a clearer picture emerged that two races may exist, and that, once the Biblical gloss was removed, Mouravieff’s description was accurate. They were able to deepen our understanding by situating the pre-adamic race within hyperdimensional reality and the Matrix control system. Let’s look at four points they raised:

- The pre-adamic race serve as portals between levels of density.
- They are “very efficient machines” and “The best ones cannot be discerned except by long and careful observation.”
- They steal energy from souled beings so as to emulate them.
- They make-up one-half of humanity.

© Red Pill Press

There is another very important point to understand before we can go any further: the two races have been interbreeding for a very, very long time.

??Intermixing of the Races??

It is extremely important to understand that the two races have been interbreeding for thousands, if not tens of thousands of years. It is impossible to look at the races on the earth today, the red, the white, the black, or the yellow, and argue that one or the other is this “pre-adamic” and soulless race. We cannot speak of groups, nations, tribes, nor peoples who are members of the “soulless” race as a group. The DNA of the two races is completely mixed, and this is the real meaning of the pollution of the bloodline. Only those with the appropriate genetic makeup are actually able to accommodate a soul and therefore pursue esoteric work, which means that no color or ethnic group is either excluded or has an advantage.

Consider this further. The DNA of these two races is so mixed that both can be found within the same families.??

We wish to insist on this point so that the hard of thinking will not accuse us of racism. The two races are so intermingled that it is a question of the individual genetics of each person on the planet.

You will notice that the C’s are pointing us in the direction of individuals and away from groups. It is not “groupings or classifications”, it is the “individual aura profile.” And this coincides with Mouravieff’s statements on the issue as he remarks here:

“...But the mixing of chromosomes was already an accomplished fact, so that the hormonal symmetry of the adamics has naturally diminished through the generations until it has become stabilized at the point it has now reached. ... certain indications in the Gospel lead us to believe that the two human races that coexist on the earth are numerically equal...” (p. 130)

We repeat: The DNA of these two races is so mixed that both can be found within the same families. Your brother, sister, mother, father, daughter or son. Not somebody “other” across the world or across the street worshipping a different god or with a different skin colour. It may be somebody you live with every day of your life, and if so, they have but one reason to be here, to drain, distract and deflect souled beings from evolving.

The way back to the activation of the DNA necessary to attain the contact with the higher centres is not through genetic manipulation, which is seeing the question through the “A” influences. The way back is through the ancient spiritual science, the real work of the alchemists, ... which through the heating of the crucible, the neo-cortex, rewires the brain so that the ancient and broken connection with the higher centres can be reestablished. It is the fusing of the “magnetic center” the establishing of the insoluble, the real “I”. This is “genetic modification” seen as a “B” influence. Big difference.?[...]

OPs and the Big Picture??

That there exists a soulless race, now numbering close to 3 billion inhabitants of this planet, certainly helps explain why the planet is in its current state. That this soulless race are portals used by the 4D STS to maintain their control over us further explains the depth of the manipulations.

[...]

It seems entirely possible that the function of an OP has been coopted by 4d STS as a feeding tube for them. By this, I mean that the original purpose or function for an OP may have had nothing at all to do with feeding on the “adamic race”.

[...]

It was also said by the Cs that OPs recharge their life force energy from a “pool”, as if they are part of a group soul much in the same way that trees are suggested to be...

But the question is, what is the nature of this bridge between 2nd and 3rd density function that OPs were originally intended for?...and in what way was it usurped...Is it that they are in fact 2nd density souls or parts of a 2D group soul that are inhabiting 3D bodies?

Again here we see that Organic portals are not “bad” or “evil” in the sense that we might ascribe to them without understanding their nature. We can see from the above that their original function was to serve as vehicles for newly evolved 2nd density souls, which, by definition do not, as yet, have integrated souls themselves. However, the key word in the above is “originally” – they were originally part of the bridge between 2nd and 3rd density. This suggests that their function or purpose has been corrupted or usurped and they are now being diverted for some other use...a few words come to mind..energy drain, distraction, confusion, manipulation ... (of souled beings)...

[...]My impression is that OPs are the means for beings in 2D to manifest in 3D as a natural part of their growth, the next stage. It would be the first step. But because they were portals, they could be used by 4D, too. Especially as they would have no knowledge with which they could protect themselves.??There is this from that session:

Q: Do the “centers” as described by Mouravieff relate at all to the idea of “chakras.”

A: Quite closely. In an individual of the organic variety, the so-called higher chakras are “produced in effect” by stealing that energy from souled beings. This is what gives them the ability to emulate souled beings. The souled being is, in effect, perceiving a mirror of their own soul when they ascribe “soul qualities” to such beings.

It occurred to me that this might be the way that an OP comes into contact with soul energy and is thus able to grow. This “mirroring” of the soul which they do might be similar to the process Gurdjieff discusses when he talks about individuals saying to themselves “I AM”. They are not yet, but by saying this, they are able to begin to act “as if.” Souled individuals who are attempting to contact this higher part of themselves “pretend” they already “AM” – please excuse the grammar. They can do this because they are aware that this higher level exists.

They have this knowledge. The OP, not having any experiential clue that a soul exists, learns about it through “stealing that energy from souled beings.”

This would make this process of “stealing energy” a natural part of the plan of growth, while at the same time creating the existence of the “door” which can be used by 4D STS to feed off of this soul energy.

I think we are all beginning to see just how pervasive this OP scenario is and how it has been affecting us all down the ages. If “knowledge protects” is true, perhaps this is one of the biggest examples yet. It’s also possibly the most important thing we will ever master – in terms of seeing the unseen. We certainly have our work cut out for us.??[The] discussion brought out and developed some interesting ideas:

- 1. The function of the OP as a bridge.
- 2. Their relationships to soul pools of flora and fauna.
- 3. The idea that there is nothing here to “fix”. The Organic Portal is performing a function in the universe. It has its place.

But the discussion was leaving out one very important function of the Organic Portal which is mentioned above: their aforementioned coopting by 4 D STS as a means of draining energy from those who have chosen to work their way out of the Matrix. This was brought home by a post from M which is worth reading in its entirety. One of his arguments is presented this way:

They are generic vehicles or portals, in human form, open for use by a variety of forces, which is why they make excellent matrix puppets. It just so happens that they’re being used now by 4D STS to control 3D STS / 4D STO candidates through “clapper” and “vampire” functions — keeping us locked into a behavioral pattern matching the orchestrated norm, and being physically close to us to sap our energies and keep us from having enough “escape velocity” to remove ourselves from the Matrix Control System’s tug, via development of our magnetic centers.”Thus we see that the “natural” function of the OP of imitation of the soul energy, the process by which they were able to progress and evolve, assumes a specific character with the STS development stream of collecting the soul energy of souled individuals in order to pass it along the feeding chain to 4D STS. The principal role of the OP is now to prevent the genuine seeker from advancing along the Way.

This is clear when we look at the following:

- OPs collect soul energy from souled individuals.
- This energy is transmitted to 4D STS.
- OPs are intermixed in families with souled individuals.
- When a souled individual makes the commitment to the “work,” he or she needs to learn to conserve the soul energy for without it the work cannot be done.
- When one makes a commitment to the “work,” one comes under attack.
- This “attack” comes from those closest to you: family and friends.
- “BUT, when someone is in the process of ‘growing’ and strengthening the soul, the Control System will seek to insert even more ‘units’ into that person’s life.”

So in many ways, the actual work of learning to discern the “A” influences from the “B” influences involves learning to discern the true nature of your relationships in order to conserve your energy from the OPs around you so that you have that energy to grow and strengthen your soul. This is made clear by Mouravieff when he makes the following comments about understanding the “film” of your life:

*In theory, the film in which a man is born and in which he lives can go on until the end of the world, on condition that he is happy, satisfied with himself, attributing his virtues to himself, and blaming others for his mistakes and misfortunes. Properly speaking, this kind of existence cannot be considered as human; it could be described as anthropoid. This term is justified in the sense that exterior man, immersed in self-satisfaction, represents the crowning achievement of millions of years of evolution of the species from its animal ancestors, yet, from the point of view of esoteric evolution, he is a possibility which has not yet been realized.

*If we envisage the problem of esoteric evolution from the point of view of the film and the different parts man can play in it, it is clear that this kind of evolution is impossible as long as the film can always be considered as running in the same circle. People who perform in such a film are those we have called anthropoids, puppets, the dead who, in the words of Jesus, 'believe themselves to be alive'. Esoteric evolution starts when man, by his conscious efforts, proves capable of breaking the circle and transforming it into an ascending spiral.

[Gnosis, Book I, pp 234-5]

For those who aspire to be conscious and to learn how to “do” in the esoteric sense, must step out of their personal film peopled with Organic Portals. It takes two to tango, and generally neither party will find fulfillment.

“As we have just said, man most often comes to this idea of evolution after he has already complicated the film to which he belongs. But true evolution, the journey toward the purity of the centres, especially the emotional centre which – at last at the start – is the sole receptacle of ‘B’ influences, and seat of the magnetic centre, cannot occur while mired in the original film. Purification of the heart is the sine qua non condition of success. “[Gnosis I, p. 238]

The heart cannot grow toward purity while engaged in a dance with Organic Portals.

How An Organic Portal Views the Organic World??

Fortunately, because the OP can be intelligent, observant, and analytical, and because they appear to include some of our most famous scientists, they are able to describe for us how they see the world and their interior “life” very accurately and in great detail.

At the bottom of this is perhaps the answer as to the source of one of the most enduring debates of human history i.e. good versus evil.

Why is it that there is so much strife in the world, why are so many divided over the promotion of war or peace, respect or disrespect, environmental protection or destruction, in short, a purely material self-serving outlook or a spiritual serving of others outlook?

Perhaps we are getting close to the answer, for the truth would seem to be that there is not and never has been a homogenous “we” (the human race) on the planet, “we” are not all alike, “we” do not see the world in the same way, “we” are not just a divided race, we are two different races.

??It becomes clearer then why most “top scientists”, in their theories, do not consider the spiritual dimension, or quickly write off any “unconventional” theories. The OP scientist (and just how many OP scientists there are is discussed further below) has no notion whatsoever of “spirit” or of the existence of higher centres. They are incapable of experiencing these higher centres, and therefore their descriptions of the world are lacking them. And because they cannot experience them, they deny their existence for everyone, including for those who are capable of “seeing” what the OP is incapable of seeing. In a materialistic world, where Organic Portals are in their Natural Element, and Souled Beings are NOT, with Organic Portal science drawing the boundary between what is true and what is false, there is no place for the Higher realms. It is “false” compared with the self-evident “truth” of materialism as experienced at all levels by the OP.

The Organic Portal in his role of scientists is bound to come to a materialistic explanation for the workings of the universe because that is all they know and are able to see.??

This is very clear when we look at the question of consciousness itself. The answers are very revealing.

The apparent ability of humans to be “self-aware” and the question of consciousness is one that has troubled the minds of philosophers, psychologists, scientists and the odd layperson, too, since time immemorial. Today more than ever consciousness is one of the most perplexing problems outstanding in science, and one that reflects on our very nature and relation to reality.

Western culture has seen various theories put forward as to the nature of human consciousness. Most of these can be included in one of two main schools of thought, i.e. the materialistic, Darwinist, evolutionary/”survival of the fittest” approach which proposes that mind/consciousness is an epiphenomenon which arises on top of material existence. From this scientific viewpoint the brain is a computer, with neurons and synapses acting as basic switches and “bits”, and consciousness is thought to “emerge” as a novel property of complex computation.

??On the other hand, we have the more “spiritually” inclined school of thought, which holds the above to be wholly inadequate in explaining the phenomenon (undoubtedly fuelled by various religious teachings and creeds), and which holds to the concept of an ethereal spirit inhabiting the body/mind and expressing itself in the form of consciousness and that this is the fundamental aspect of life. Other schools mixing and matching from the two also exist.

To this point, it is interesting to look at just who are the various exponents on opposing sides of the argument. In one camp we have the many scientists and MDs of various disciplines such as the “neural Darwinism” of Edelman and the “memes” of Dennet and Dawkins. In the other camp we find “new age” gurus and authors and the odd respectable scientist such as David Chalmers, as well, of course, as the Church and the many twisted turns of Christianity.

??We find there that many OP concepts have been utilized to coopt spiritual truth. We find many OPs, imitating souled beings in their “spiritual searching,” promoting ideas and theories that are fundamentally flawed because they are “imitations” of the real thing which the OP can never, by his very nature, perceive accurately.??

Again and again, I can only point to the New Age Movement and popular easy-to swallow pseudo-spiritual half-truths. In light of the information we just examined, could it be possible that certain popular New Age Gurus, many of them who are millionaires and feed off attention in multiple ways, are in fact OP's, imitating something they are not and do not possess? Be it the successful yoga teacher who has his/her following, marketing him/herself shamelessly or the typical self-help guru on Oprah selling millions of books based on re-washed spiritual half-truths. The idea of Organic Portals opens up a whole can of worms and questions if someone really is who he/she claims to be or just pretends to be.

Startling figures recently released show that 50% of all medical and scientific papers are published by the same small group of academics, who account for just 6% of the total number. If we take it as real that our reality is manipulated to a large extent, then the logical step to keeping the scientific world under control would be to ensure that it is populated with people that will reflect the views and opinions that suit a specific agenda.

??The same is true for the spiritual and esoteric world. 4th Density STS makes sure that the religions, spiritual concepts, and nearly the entire metaphysical “world” is dominated by OPs to keep the “cattle in the fence.”

As I mentioned above about the New Age Movement and the popular “Gurus”, this also relates to questionable channeled material, which may be transmitted by 4D STS sources. For example, claiming to be “The Galactic Federation of Light” and coming here to “save” humanity is in fact disinformation (for more about why higher evolved beings and ET’s would not “save” us, check out this [video) in order to keep the “cattle in the fence”, so to speak, targeting the credulity and wishful thinking of the channel and audience (with the usual emotional hooks). In other words, they are “negative” forces posing as “positive” ones. There is much deception coming through the ether and there is corruption/distortion in all channeled material.]

??Indeed, a perfect strategy might be to ensure that top posts are held by organic portals allowing the controllers to rest safely in the knowledge that all mainstream theories and research will have a definite materialistic and non-spiritual slant, thus perpetuating the Darwinist evolved “monkey clinging to a godless lump of rock spinning in space” shtick and keeping those pesky souled beings under their spell.

One “top man” with a relatively new axe to grind is Richard Dawkins.

Richard Dawkins, while developing the singular theory that humans were the method developed by genes to perpetuate themselves, coined the term “meme” in 1976 as a way to describe and validate the idea outlined above, i.e. that consciousness is merely a function of groups of ideas or concepts in our minds. What differs, however, in his interpretation is that it is not the “machine” that collects and organises data and then takes some predetermined action based on it, rather these “memes” take on a more hostile attitude and in a “virus”-like way, they invade the human mind (individual and mass) and compete with each other for dominance and, therefore, survival in the fertile ground that is the human neurological network.

In the words of Dr Susan Blackmore (another chief “meme head”):

“Memes are ideas, skills, habits, stories or inventions, that are passed from person to person by imitation. Like genes they compete to get copied, but unlike genes their competition is for space in our memories, and for the chance to get into books, magazines and television programmes. The survivors in this game are the ones we see all around us. Just as genes have created our bodies, so memes have created our minds and our cultures.”

This explains, so the theory goes, our incurably religious nature, our unusual forms of cooperation and altruism, our use of language, and our ability to defy our genes with birth control and genetic engineering. We humans, alone on this planet, are meme machines. The term ‘meme’ (to rhyme with cream or dream) was coined in 1976 by Richard Dawkins, in The Selfish Gene. The purpose of his book was to explain the power and generality of Darwin’s great insight. What Darwin had realised was that a simple mindless process can account for evolution — without a designer. If you have creatures that vary, and if only some of them can survive, and if the survivors pass on to their offspring whatever it was that helped them survive, then the next generation must be better adapted than the first—and so the process goes on. In more modern terms, if you have variation, heredity and selection, then you must get, as philosopher Dan Dennett puts it “Design out of Chaos without the aid of Mind”. And this inevitable process works on anything that is copied— not just genes.

Dan Dennett had this to say about memes and viruses:

“Dawkins points out that we can think of cultural items, memes, as parasites, too. Actually, they are more like a simple virus than a worm. Memes are supposed to be analogous to genes, the replicating entities of the cultural media, but they also have vehicles, or phenotypes; they are like not-so-naked genes. They are like viruses (Dawkins, 1993). As with viruses, there is a phenotype/genotype distinction, but just barely. Basically, a virus is just a string of DNA (or RNA) with attitude. And similarly, a meme is an information-packet (the information, not the vehicle) with attitude—with some phenotypic clothing that has differential effects in the world that thereby influence its chances of getting replicated.”

Dan Dennett is one of the most ardent defenders of the theory “mind as program”, although in Dennett’s theory, the mind is not one program, it is a collection of very simple programs which each do one thing very well. This is detailed in his book Consciousness Explained.

Dennett proposes that this collection of programs gives the impression of a unity that is the “self,” but that this self as unity does not exist. Dennett is giving a very accurate description of the way the mind works in an Organic Portal. It is also the way of the mind for an External Man, that is, the “souled” man who has not yet begun the work of building his magnetic centre which will permit the balancing and fusion of his three lower centres and the establishment of a permanent link with the higher centres.

Mouravieff writes:

“When we ask someone who lives under this constant pressure of contemporary life to turn his mental vision towards himself, he generally answers that he has not enough time left to undertake such practices. ... If he acquiesces, he will in most cases say that he sees nothing: Fog; Obscurity. In less common cases, the observer reports that he perceives something which he cannot define because it changes all the time.

This last observation is correct. Everything is in fact continually changing within us. A minor external shock, agreeable or disagreeable, happy or unhappy, is sufficient to give our inner content a quite different appearance.

If we follow up this interior observation, this introspection, without prejudice, we will soon note that our “I” of which we are so consistently proud, is not always the same self: the “I” changes.

As this impression becomes more defined we begin to become more aware that it is not a single being who lives within us but several, each having his own tastes, his own aspirations, and each trying to attain his own ends.

If we proceed with this experience, we will soon be able to distinguish three currents with that perpetually moving life: that of the vegetative life of the instincts, so to speak; that of the animal life of the feelings; and lastly that of human life in the proper sense of the term, characterized by thought and speech.

It is as though there were three beings within us, all entangled together in an extraordinary way.

So we come to appreciate the value of introspection as a method of practical work which permits us to know ourselves and enter into ourselves.

The inner content of man is analogous to a vase full of iron filings in a state of mixture as a result of mechanical action. Every shock received by the vase causes displacement of the particles of iron filings. Thus real life remains hidden from the human being due to the constant changes occurring in his inner life.

Even so, as we shall see later, this senseless and dangerous situation can be modified in a beneficial way. But this requires work; conscientious and sustained effort. Introspection carried out relentlessly results in enhanced internal sensibility. This improved sensibility in its turn intensifies the amplitude and frequency of movement whenever the iron filings are disturbed. As a result, shocks that previously were not noticed will now provoke vivid reactions. These movements, because of their continuous amplification, can create friction between particles of iron so intense that we may one day feel the interior fire igniting within us.

The fire must not remain a harmless flare-up. Nor is it enough that the fire smolders dormant under the ashes.

A live and ardent fire once lit must be carefully kept alight by the will to refine and cultivate sensitiveness. If it continues in this way, our state can change: the heat of the flame will start a process of fusion within us.

From this point on the inner content will no longer behave like a heap of iron filings: it will form a block. Then further shocks will no longer provoke interior change in man as they did previously. Having reached this point he will have acquired a firmness; he will remain himself in the midst of the tempests to which life may expose him.”

Thus we see that the idea that there is no unitary self is correct from the esoteric point-of-view. Only, we go further than Dennett. We hold that the possibility to create this “self” exists and that approximately 50% of the population of the earth at this time actually possess the latent resources with which to do this. This work involves being aware of our actions and responses and bringing our “programs” to light so that we can reach what lies behind, what is obscured by the many little “I”s, the real, unified “I”.

??To further demonstrate the working of the organic portal scientific mind, we have the following from Francis Heylighen, a research professor at Free University of Brussels and editor of the Principia Cybernetica Project, “an international organization for the collaborative development of an evolutionary-systemic philosophy“. In attempting to convince us of the mind as machine theory, he defines this very situation and gives us an insight into and description of the mind and nature of an organic portal.

In “Is there a Hard Problem of Consciousness” he writes:

“First person experiences or qualia are the essentially subjective, personal feelings or experiences that each of us have (e.g. the feeling of “redness” or “cold”), and that cannot be described by words, formulas, programs or any other objective representation. According to some consciousness theorists, such as David Chalmers, an agent without such qualia would merely be a “zombie”, a creature that may behave, sense and communicate just like a human being, but that would lack the most crucial aspect of consciousness. The “hard problem” of consciousness research then consists in elucidating the nature of first-person experiences.

We believe that this approach is essentially misguided. If the hypothetical zombie behaves in all respects indistinguishable from a person with consciousness, then the principle of the identity of the indistinguishable would force us to conclude that the “zombie” has consciousness. How else would we know that the people around us aren’t zombies? We assume they have conscious experience similar to ourselves because they behave in all other respects similar to us. But if you would take this reasoning seriously, then you might start to get nightmarish fantasies in which you are the only real, conscious person in the world, and all the others are merely sophisticated automatons that pretend to be like you.”

Conscious human or sophisticated automaton?

Have you ever had this “nightmarish fantasy” that the world is populated by zombies ? Well, guess what, it isn’t a fantasy. Half the people out there are exactly that: “sophisticated automatons that pretend to be like you”.??

It is entirely fitting that he uses the term “agent” (the Matrix movie anyone?) for the type of programmed being, “be they made from flesh and blood or silicon chips”.

He goes on to say:

“Agents do not sense the world as if they were impersonal, objective bystanders, that try to internally represent the world as it is, independently of themselves. For an agent a sensation is meaningful only to the degree that it relates to the agent’s goals, which, in practice, means that it is relevant to the agent’s individual survival.”

Heylighen is describing the predator’s mind. This is startlingly close to the actual real life scenarios of psychopath’s behavior and thinking that are presented in Cleckely’s book “The Mask of Sanity”.

The author concludes:

“Consciousness is not some mysterious substance, fluid, or property of matter, but a level of organization emerging from abstract processes and relations. People who search for consciousness in elementary particles (a form of panpsychism that has been suggested as a way to tackle the “hard problem”), because they cannot otherwise explain where the consciousness in our brain comes from, are misguided. Their intuition may be correct insofar that particles, just like any other system, should be seen as relations rather than just as clumps of matter. But to attribute consciousness to these extremely simple types of relations is merely a way to evade the really hard, but solvable, problem of reconstructing the complex cybernetic organization of the human mind in all its details and subtleties.”

Here we have seen the Organic Portal view of themselves. Whether or not the individuals named are Organic Portals is not the issue. They may be souled individuals who have not yet been able to see behind the lie of the Personality. As long as that has not happened, souled individuals will function and see the world and themselves as if they were Organic Portals. But it is clear that this manner of “explaining” consciousness is limited, explaining only that particular form of consciousness manifested by the Personality – the exterior man. It can describe the functioning of the OP or the exterior man; it can not do justice to the consciousness of the Seeker engaged in the work of fusion to seat the soul.

??We next look at the question of creativity.??

We have seen that the OP learns through imitation. Meme theory posits that memes spread through imitation. And works of art, books, music, scientific ideas, all of these forms of “creation”, are merely the spreading of memes. A “creator” is someone who takes memes and finds new ways of putting them together, of arranging and rearranging. But nothing is ever really “created.”

??This is because the moving centre of the Organic Portal, unable to draw energy from the higher emotional and intellectual centres which do not exist for him. His creativity in the form of “love” is limited in its functioning to carnal love.

Mouravieff writes:

“It is important to remember that – except of course for adamic man – every creature taking part in organic Life on Earth, whether it has one centre to its psyche, two, or three as in the man of the VIth day [the organic portal], has only one higher centre. Indeed, on the hylic plane, the sexual centre is analogous to the higher emotional and higher intellectual centres, since it is by nature and structure whole, that is, indivisible.

Except when its energy is usurped by the three centres of the Personality, the sexual centre in its direct function, which is carnal love, has a goal that is well defined by the words: Be fruitful, and multiply. In other words, in a healthy organism, this centre, like the higher emotional and intellectual centres, knows neither doubt, nor hesitation, nor sadness, which is quite the opposite with what is too often the case with the three lower centres.” [Gnosis, Book III, p. 143.]

The special function of the sexual centre in souled beings is explained further by the C's:

Q: Does the recharging of the souled being come from a similar pool, only maybe the “human” pool?

A: No – it recharges from the so-called sexual center which is a higher center of creative energy. During sleep, the emotional center, not being blocked by the lower intellectual center and the moving center, transduces the energy from the sexual center. It is also the time during which the higher emotional and intellectual centers can rest from the “drain” of the lower centers’ interaction with those pesky organic portals so much loved by the lower centers. This respite alone is sufficient to make a difference. But, more than that, the energy of the sexual center is also more available to the other higher centers.

Q: From where does the so-called “sexual center” get ITS energy?

A: The sexual center is in direct contact with 7th density in its “feminine” creative thought of “Thou, I Love.” The “outbreath” of “God” in the relief of constriction. Pulsation. Unstable Gravity Waves.

True creativity comes from this connection with “7th density in its ‘feminine’ creative thought of ‘Thou, I Love’” in its conjugation with the higher emotional and intellectual centers. Thus the souled individual is able to “create” in the sense of manifesting something new through his or her thought and the connection to 7th Density. This is a profound process for it ties us directly to the “Creator”, to the One.?

The organic portal, when seeking to define this genuine creative impulse, is obliged to fall back upon the idea of the meme, of imitation. Look at Dennett describe the creative act:

“This is a new way of thinking about ideas. It is also, I hope to show, a good way, but at the outset the perspective it provides is distinctly unsettling, even appalling. We can sum it up with a slogan: A scholar is just a library’s way of making another library.”

I don’t know about you, but I am not initially attracted by the idea of my brain as a sort of dungheap in which the larvae of other people’s ideas renew themselves, before sending out copies of themselves in an informational Diaspora. It does seem to rob my mind of its importance as both author and critic. Who is in charge, according to this vision—we or our memes?

There is, of course, no simple answer. We would like to think of ourselves as godlike creators of ideas, manipulating and controlling them as our whim dictates, and judging them from an independent, Olympian standpoint. But even if this is our ideal, we know that it is seldom if ever the reality, even with the most masterful and creative minds. As Mozart famously observed of his own brainchildren:

“When I feel well and in a good humor, or when I am taking a drive or walking after a good meal, or in the night when I cannot sleep, thoughts crowd into my mind as easily as you would wish. Whence and how do they come? I do not know and I have nothing to do with it. Those which please me I keep in my head and hum them; at least others have told me that I do so.”

Mozart is in good company. Rare is the novelist who doesn't claim characters who "take on a life of their own"; artists are rather fond of confessing that their paintings take over and paint themselves, and poets humbly submit that they are the servants or even slaves to the ideas that teem in their heads, not the bosses. And we all can cite cases of memes that persist unbidden and unappreciated in our own minds.

Let us look at this notion of "where do creative ideas come from?" In the External Man, that is, the souled individual who has yet to begin the work of forming the magnetic centre, there is a connection, albeit veiled, with the higher centres. Because it is veiled, "ideas" which are able to pierce the veil will have the appearance of "appearing from nowhere." They may well be genuinely creative acts, however, the Personality is unaware of this.??

The arrival of a meme in the mind of the organic portal will also have the appearance of "appearing from nowhere", but in this case, there is no veil that has been pierced, no higher centre from which it has received nourishment. Because the OP and the souled individual who has yet to begin esoteric work are describing the same surface features of an event – the "creative" act — they may well confound the genuine creative act with the mere propagation of the meme.

Thus, "creation", our connection with "7th density in its 'feminine' creative thought of 'Thou, I Love'", is reduced to mere imitation and emptied of its expression of Love. If every creative act is an expression of Love, and every act of imitation is not, we can see clearly that we live in a world without Love.

???Identifying OPs

Having come to the realization that there are 3 billion Organic Portals in the world, discussion at the Quantum Future School turned to "How do we identify them?" This is not easy, as their primary talent is that of imitation, of mimicry. As we saw in the section on where they fit in the Organic world, it is through imitation that they are able to begin the process of developing their own souls. This ability to mimic must therefore be an integral part of their character. To progress, they must be good at it.?? This implies that the “best” OPs will be the best mimics, the ones best able to mimic being “souled.”

However, the internal structure of the OP is missing the higher centres, having only the three lower centres which form the Personality, the “I” of the small “I”s, and the “I” of the body, and a sexual centre cut off from the other higher centres. A study of the following passage by Mouravieff gives indications on how a careful study of the inner dynamic of people can separate the “good seed” from the “tares”.

The adamic man who has even a vague consciousness of his real ‘I’ finds that this is a source of internal conflict that he cannot solve on a purely human plane. This conflict becomes more acute from the moment he actively enters esoteric work. It is then that he becomes weak and falls a prey to uncertainty, doubt, and mistrust towards himself, for the road that leads to Truth always passes through doubts. Throughout this work, we have seen several times the considerable sum of efforts and superefforts that are demanded of the adamic man, who, after having recognized his position in life, resolutely crosses the First Threshold and climbs the staircase to attain and pass the Second Threshold with its promised Redemption. [Gnosis, Book III, pp. 131-132]

So the first indication of an Organic Portal is a lack of “internal conflict and resulting doubt.” There are people who never doubt their thoughts or what they are told or what they have chosen to believe. No matter the circumstances, the failures or set-backs, these people are unassailed by self-questioning or questioning of the system.

How many of you reading this site were prompted to do so because of a feeling of conflict or doubt about what was “out there” and what some intuition or inner knowing was suggesting? The character Morpheus sums it up pretty well in The Matrix:

“You are here because you know something.”

An OP does not have this inner conflict, they do not react to evidence of “more to life” than material existence. But even if the OP is not beset with this type of doubt, they can and do have a form of “inner conflict” that is Personality based.?? Mouravieff explains:

“Pre-adamics are not subject to these fits of anguish and these permanent inner conflicts; not that they live in perfect peace, or are never troubled by conflicts – far from it – but in most cases their conflicts take place in the interior of the Personality, between different groups of the little ‘I’s which produce these conflicts. As a result, the character of the conflicts is purely psychic, and they are generally resolved by some kind of compromise.

The more acute conflicts that take place in pre-adamic man occur between the ‘I’ of the Personality and the ‘I’ of the body. We have dwelt at length on this subject in volume II of Gnosis, emphasizing the fact that the ‘I’ of the body usually wins over the weak, changing Personality, which capitulates without much of a struggle whenever it is a question of satisfying the stomach or the sexual appetites.

Justification is then sought in slogans such as those which allow us to think that it is normal to ‘act like everyone else,’ or in a maze of paradoxical reasons that are simply lies to oneself.”

[Gnosis, Book III, p. 132]

The inner conflicts of the Organic Portal are not about his relationship to the world in the sense of his fundamental “Being” in this world. He cannot become preoccupied by such questions, because they arise from the influence of the real 'I'. There can be no contradiction between the Organic Portal and his Being in this world because he is fully OF this world, he is the expression of it as a material realm.

The souled individual, however, is different, having “fallen” into this world, retaining a memory of the higher worlds which come to him through the real “I”. The tension between this “re-mind-er” of his true nature from the real “I” and the fallen nature of his Personality is what creates the potential for esoteric work, is what creates the grounds for the heating of the crucible as the two enter into conflict. [The conflict described in alchemical texts, the tests of the Knight on the Quest for the Grail.]

“But the inner conflicts of adamic man, who often enters esoteric work because he has reached the last extremity of moral bankruptcy, cannot be resolved by compromise, as there is no place for this kind of solution in the consciousness of the real ‘I’ from which he receives his calls. In him, it is the ensemble formed by the entire Personality, with the ‘I’ of the body, an ensemble which, directly or indirectly, is often made to act by the sexual centre, which flees from the voice of conscience, i.e. of the real ‘I’. He then has a choice, either to obey his real ‘I’ and triumph over himself, or to flee from this invisible Combat into self-calming and powerful illusions offered by a life of lying to himself.

In every case, if he triumphs over himself, which is what will enable the adamic man to resolve the inner conflict of the moment, this will inevitably involve a modification of his attitude towards outer life.

Generally, the result will be conflict with those closest to him, unless the latter follow him step by step in his esoteric evolution, which is rare.

This does not mean that those who are near and dear to him wish him any ill; on the contrary, it is nearly always his good that they have in view: the conflict arises simply from their different conceptions of what is real. If those who surround the individual in question are pre-adamic, they could never agree with him, being incapable of understanding the reasons for his change of attitude and unable to grasp the nature of the end he pursues. They will automatically become the instruments of the General Law, which makes sure that those who step out of line are brought back into the fold. This is how ‘a man’s foes shall be of his household.’ “[Ibid.]

Mouravieff describes the situation for the Seeker, but only hints at the activity of the Control System when he mentions the “General Law” or “A” influences. The C’s have said, in the session quoted above, “the Control System will seek to insert even more ‘units’ into that person’s life.” We have also seen how the Organic Portal’s natural role has been coopted by 4D STS. This would imply that the problems arising from different conceptions of what is real will be used, magnified, and stoked to the wildest proportions imaginable by the conscious activities of the Controllers as they seek to feed themselves and prevent the Seeker from walking the Way.

“Pre-adamic man cannot be subject to inner or domestic conflicts of this kind. He rarely receives ‘B’ influences. If he vaguely senses their existence, they only appear as a curiosity to his eyes and do not have the power to trouble him right down to the depths of his psyche. In him, the sexual centre reigns supreme, whether by its direct action that takes the form of carnal love [i.e. for the sake of reproduction], or by an indirect, ‘psychological’, action of the psyche to which his Personality submits. Like adamic man’s, his Personality contains three lower centres, but that is all. Equally underdeveloped and unbalanced, but sheltered from the troubles provoked by the ‘B’ influences, this Personality lives and acts obedient to the commands of the sexual centre. Nothing within him withstands the latter, which is known in contemporary language as temperament.

In the arena of the ‘exterior’ life of human society, dominated by the ‘A’ influences, the adamic man who has crossed the First Threshold proves to be weaker than his pre-adamic counterpart; and the greater the strength he acquires during his progress on the Staircase, the greater is his weakness when faced with life. “[Gnosis, Book III pp. 132-133]

This last comment gives another clue. The pre-adamic being is IN his or her environment in a way that an adamic being is not. The world with its “A” influences holds great attraction. The activity of the sexual center seeks gratification in a world more and more sexually charged through media and open displays of sexual imagery. The “I” of the body can exist happily on the level of a basic animal existence governed by the lower centers, but the developing real “I” in the process of activating the higher centers cannot. And throughout it all, the soulless being doesn’t feel uncomfortable, unless they have been caught up in the brainwashing of Church, etc., intended to control the souled. We see also that the organic portal will not react to “B influences” (which are evidence of a greater or spiritual reality) when they intrude upon his daily life but will rather quickly seek to dismiss them.

??[...]

After a certain period of time, we realized that there was something much deeper than just simply bald-faced lying, theft and general spiritual corruption going on out there in New Age land.

[...]

So, we moved to another area of study: Cleckley. And he does, indeed, talk about some psychopaths who have never gone “over the line” in social terms. They are successful doctors, lawyers, even psychiatrists... [not to forget politicians and world leaders]

What we now suspect is that there is an even more covert “layer of the onion” on this subject: the effective and efficient Organic Portal. The PERFECT Mask of Sanity. But more than that: the perfect Mask of Consciousness.

??If we accept, as Mouravieff describes, that the Organic Portal has the possibility of moving forward in his own evolution during the next cycle, moving from pre-adamic to adamic, and if we also admit that the current cycle is approaching its end, there is the following possibility. We are living in the period when a certain number of OPs have achieved an imitation of the souled being which is so realistic, so developed, that they can only come back as adamic beings. They can not evolve any further within these bodies.

This forces the Seeker to develop his or her discernment, to refine it continually in order to “see” finer and finer degrees of manipulation happening around and to us. It will heat the crucible to higher and higher temperatures, creating in turn the conditions of liberation.

??[In this current time of transition, the end of the Grand Cycle, it becomes important for adamic man to wake up and consciously engage in esoteric work through conscious efforts, in order to align with the Divine Plan and rectify the “error”. At the same, if adamic man develops as he should (fusing the magnetic center to establish the permanent real “I”), pre-adamic man will take the place of adamic man, granting him the possibility of esoteric evolution. If adamic man fails to do so, “the Deluge of Fire awaits us” , as Mouravieff pointed out, the way down into Entropy, the dark side of Creator, Non-Being, as mentioned in the beginning of this blog. The choice to be made is in each single one of us. No one can do the work for another, nor can any “saviors”.]

???Summing Up??

Let’s pull together the various threads and weave a tapestry which illustrates our current situation.

By “going for the gold,” that is, desiring to experiment with physicality, our consciousness unit fell from its state of “grace,” that is, a 3D STO existence in a “semi/sort of” 4D state aligned with 4D STO into a 3D STS world already populated with an anthropoid race who served as organic portals, the bridge linking 2nd Density to 3rd Density. Having fallen, and thereby losing awareness of its connection to the higher centers, the souled race was in no way different from the anthropoid race when seen from the exterior. He differed only in having the potential to reconnect with the higher centers by developing the magnetic center. The DNA which seated these higher centers was burned away – disconnected and dispersed in the cell structure. However, the ability to get it back remains.

This 3rd Density STS world in which Adamic man “awoke” was not his natural habitat. It is the world of the anthropoids, the meat puppets, the dead. It is a farm run and controlled by 4D STS to provide their nourishment. It is the world of the three lower centers and a sexual center limited to a role of procreation through carnal love. It is a world organized on the basis of hunger, sex, and fear.

??The souled race came into this world and became part of it, interbreeding with the native race until the genetic pool became thoroughly mixed. Now, the two races are so mixed that they can both be found within the same family.??

More than that, the models we are taught and forced to internalize are based upon the “natural” inhabitant of this realm, the Organic Portal. Thus, material explanations are the norm. The inner life of the Organic Portal, cut off from the higher centres, is the “norm.”

??Should we then be surprised that we live in a world which is more and more “mechanical,” which treats individuals as “units,” where “creativity” is the replication of existing ideas as in a production line, where “franchising” and “branding” are so important in the economic world, where democracy is a multiple choice test every few years rather than the creative input of individuals into the organization of their lives, where people who “see” other beings, other worlds, are shipped off into prison camps for the “mentally disturbed”, where culture consists of endless copies of the same product with slight modifications to fool the consumer that it is something “new” and “revolutionary”. And on and on it goes.

And it is all organized to prevent YOU from advancing, to distract YOU, to keep YOU concerned with a husband, wife, mother, father, daughter or son who is beyond your ability to “save” because he or she cannot be “saved” — they are fundamentally different from you, they do not have the DNA which would allow a soul to “seat” so as to enable an understanding of the possibility of a higher life. Worse, they are draining you of vital energy and thus denying you any chance of developing your magnetic centre, with the final destination of this energy being 4D STS. It feeds and maintains the Matrix. In these interactions, you are nothing but a battery and the organic portals in your life are the “feeding tubes.”

You need that energy to advance. It is yours, and it is your right to claim and retain it. But to do so, you must stop this “dance of death” with the Organic Portals in your life.

In a very real and important sense, determining the nature of our relationships IS the very process of discerning “A” influence and “B” influences. It is the most important work we can do. We can accomplish NOTHING else without doing this first. You cannot be “unequally yoked.” You cannot serve two masters.

??Instead of labeling definitively the more subtle cases of OPs, maybe it is better to focus on identifying within ourselves how much energy is being drained in any interaction. This can be done I think. And this is the crucial distinction that needs to be made.

??When we discern that our energy is being drained in an interaction... we are then faced with a very difficult situation especially if the OP in our lives is of the type that is not overtly “defective,” so to say. It may be a “doggie” type that is very nice to have around most of the time, though demanding and draining.

For example: if we are in a relationship where we feel we “need to get away now and then to recharge” or something, but in most other respects, the relations are satisfactory, we may be involved with an OP that is very subtle and good in terms of draining our energy off.

It may take years to realize that we are really getting nowhere in terms of spiritual growth, even if we do sort of manage to “hold the line” with our regular “getaways” or other coping mechanisms we develop in our relations.??

We are very happy to be working to leave the 3rd Density STS Planet Earth to its original inhabitants. It must be as difficult for them as it is for us to continue to cohabit the same world with such diametrically opposed points of view on how the universe works and in which direction we should be working.

We wish them well in the next Cycle.

[end of excerpt]

The Splitting is already happening. As the cycle closes there is the opportunity for adamic man, souled humans with access to the higher centers, to “graduate” or ascend into a higher state of Being, activating the full DNA. However it doesn’t happen by itself, nor by bathing in the Photon belt, meditating on Love and Peace, focusing on “positive” thoughts or creating one’s reality by following the desires of the false “I”, the personality, the “A” influences and world of the Organic portal.

Conscious efforts are needed, gaining knowledge and applying it, separating truth from lies in oneself and in the world, activating the higher centers through esoteric work, so the fire can ignite the transmutation of Lead into Gold, fusing the Magnetic Center, the Holy Grail, the Path of Ascension, which leads from carnal love to courtly Love of the Absolute. This is the work to be done for the ones who are called to awaken and there are forces that do not wish that to happen, using Organic Portals to work through as well as many other traps and temptations the “General Law” (or “Hyperdimensional Matrix Control System”) puts into the path of the seeker to divert him/her in order not to lose its food source. It’s a spiritual war and we need to be discerning in our relationships, who we engage with, the “spiritual” and “new age” teachings we come across and so on. Without discernment and mastering our “I”, no spiritual progress and ultimately no ascension.

The topic of Organic Portals is deep and far-reaching. One must not come to hasty conclusions, assumptions or judgments. We all are Organic Portals to one degree or another as the “predator” and matrix works through all of us until we make the effort to gain self-knowledge and work on fusing our higher centers that connect us to our higher self in a conscious way, dislodging our programs and conditioned, mechanical behaviors so we’re able to use our will in a conscious and awake manner. That is the basis for true free will.

‘Think for a moment, and tell me how you would explain the contradiction between the intelligence of man the engineer and the stupidity of his systems of beliefs, or the stupidity of his contradictory behavior. Sorcerers believe that the predators have given us our systems of beliefs, our ideas of good and evil, our social mores. They are the ones who set up our hopes and expectations and dreams of success or failure. They have given us covetousness, greed and cowardice. It is the predators who make us complacent, routinary, and egomaniacal. ‘

– Don Juan Matus

In the words of Laura Knight-Jadczyk from “The Secret History of the World”:

*“[...] a major part of our esoteric work is to learn to extricate ourselves from the energy feeding dynamic inherent in relationships with Organic Portals. Moreover, because those who have the higher centers in potential are subject to the same programming and are mechanical, reaction units until they undertake the work to develop their higher centers, the same thing holds true in our interactions and dynamics with them. We are all feeders until we learn to stop our feeding off of others and how to stop others from feeding off of us. Esoteric work demands enormous amounts of energy, and this energy is the energy off of which others feed.

*In order to progress in esoteric work, it is fundamental to understand this underlying dynamic of feeding; it is pointless and dangerous to attempt to identify and to classify individuals as organic portals because we are all OPs until we choose to be otherwise. To turn a tool for understanding the true terror of our situation in this world of the fallen into a weapon against individuals is to empty it of its spiritual importance and render it a tool of our enslavement in the material world, the same process that has occurred to all of the world's religions during the course of our unhappy history.

*A true understanding of the organic portal and the world in which we live gives us the knowledge necessary for getting out “alive”, whether that is literally or whether it is just being alive to our true nature as souls locked in material bodies in order to learn important lessons that only this world can teach. We can no more hate those who have no access to the higher truths because of who they are than we can hate the cat who plays with the mouse prior to killing and eating it.